Reviews

Intense red colour with violet tones. Red berry aromas (blackberries, plums) accompanied by a subtle hint of liquorice and wrapped by a touch of new American wood that creates further complexity. Fruity palate, smooth and balanced, easy to drink. Matches well with all types of meat, especially red and garnished. Very suitable with cured and semi cured cheese. Ideal with tapas and appetizers.

Winemaker's Note

About the producer

In 1986 Julian Murua decided to convert and refurbish his parents' wine cellar, which had been built in 1926, with a view to creating Rioja DO wines. Situated in Elciego in the heart of Rioja Alavesa, beside the rio Mayor, this winery now prides itself on consistently creating great quality wines.
