Tasting notes

Delicious black cherry compote aromas. Fresh ripe fruit dominates the nose and palate from start to finish. Tremendous finesse and purity and perfectly harmonious. Very long finish supported by beautifully fine tannins. Superb wine

About the producer

Frequently cited as punching above its weight in the classification stakes, this 5eme Cru classe has a complicated history, not unusual given the inheritance laws in France. The estate again began to produce wine that was not only worthy of the 1855 classification it had inherited but outperformed it. Francois Xavier now sits at the helm and undertook an extensive programme of investment, innovation and renovation. The wines have seen a serious upturn after the doldrums of the early part of the 20th century and now deserve the widespread acclaim they have achieved.
