Tasting notes

The pretty Beauséjour Bécot from Saint-Émilion has a certain angelic allure that transmits its status as one of the leading Premier Grand Cru Classé properties in Bordeaux. The vineyard was originally cultivated by monks of the Church of St Martin during the middle ages, who tended to the vines with great care, establishing the roots of Beauséjour Bécot's legendary terroir. This highly attractive St Emilion, from the exceptionally luscious 2009 vintage, will reward the most patient but, be warned, it will be hard to resist.
