Tasting notes

This is always a very impressive wine and the 2011 is no exception with attractive, sweet berry aromas, with hints of minerals and smoke, and a palate which is bursting with bright red fruits. Darker plum characters open up in the background and this is balanced by mouthwatering freshness and refined, almost seamless tannins. A superb wine with wonderful vitality and clarity of pure fruit, it expresses the subtleties of this great terroir perfectly. Drink from 2016.

About the producer

Spending any time with Nicolas Potel in Burgundy can't help but to make even the most ardent of critics a lifelong convert. Nicolas is another man of boundless energy but his approach is very organic, adhering to the natural rhythms wherever possible. Such an unforced, careful, natural and sensitive approach is reflected perfectly in his wine and Nicolas has brought a breath of fresh air to Burgundy over the last decade and more. Quite simply, he remains one of Burgundy's brightest talents.
