

2017 Gevrey Chambertin

Benjamin Leroux, Burgundy & Chablis Wine Region, France

Product details

Vintage:	2017	Drinking:
Producer:	Benjamin Leroux	Alcohol:
Region:	Burgundy & Chablis Wine Region	Variety:
Country:	France

Reviews

The 2017 Gevrey-Chambertin Village, mainly from Les Seuvrées and La Justice, plus a couple of other minor contributors, has a pretty, harmonious black cherry and cassis bouquet with light rose petal aromas. The palate is medium-bodied, offering light tannin, brisk dark berry fruit and touches of cola, but lacks a little substance on the finish. Early-drinking, but pleasurable. 86-88 Points, Neal Martin, Vinous Delicate and dark fruited. An elegant restraint. Darkly scented on the palate, supple, suave texture, caressing and yet fresh. Long and moreish and very Gevrey with a sober elegance. 16.5+/20 Points, Julia Harding, JancisRobinson.com

About the producer

Steady growth at this successful maison: Benjamin's own vineyard holdings have expanded to over 7 ha (plus 16 ha under contract). He is one of the best winemakers in Burgundy, and although he makes nearly fifty different wines, they are of an astonishingly high standard.

