Tasting notes

---

Fonte Canale, praised as “one of the best whites being made in Italy today” by Eric Guido, has redefined what collectors can expect from fine Italian whites. Produced from just 736 individually selected vines of 90-year-old Trebbiano Abruzzese, this crystalline wine will age with supreme grace. The 2019 is “absolutely outstanding” according to Ian d’Agata, who has compared previous vintages to a Chablis Grand Cru Les Clos.

Reviews

"Brilliant intense straw. Hazelnuts and cedro (citron) and orange pith. Crystal-like acidity, super-taut and linear. Lip-smacking finish. Stunning. Drink 2023-2032."

About the producer

---

Located in the rugged Adriatic region of Abruzzo, Cristiana Tiberio’s 30 ha estate has fast gained a reputation for her unapologetic take on what the wines of her region should be. Working with very old Trebbiano Abruzzese vines and with the indigenous varieties of Montepulciano d’Abruzzo and Pecorino, she has made it her mission to craft wines that display real purity and elegance with a very distinct character. The focus here is on combining indigenous varieties and unique terroir with state-of-the-art winemaking. The result is some of the purest and long-lived wines in the region - a future Italian icon.
