About the producer

El Vinculo started as a challenge - to produce high-quality wine in La Mancha, an area of central Spain with no reputation for fine wine. It is no surprise that the Fernández Rivera family, creators of Pesquera, succeeded. Located in Campo de Criptana, a town whose windmills were made famous in Don Quixote, the wines are created from old vines rescued by the family. This is the only winery in the group to produce a white wine, an entirely unique oak-aged Airén that will thrill those looking to explore.
